Annexation Appeal Hearing Is Set In Austin Jan. 24

The long-awaited appeal hearing before a representative of the Texas Commissioner of Education on the controversial Canyon-Amarillo school property annexation case will be held at 10 a.m. Jan. 24 in Austin.

Canyon school representatives and possibly a representative of the Randall County district attorney's office are expected to travel to Austin for the hearing, the next round in a fight by a handful of North Randall County residents and a developer to have their property detached from the Canyon School District and annexed by the Amarillo district.

Local officials were notified of the hearing date Wednesday morning by letter, which also went to attorneys for the Potter County School Trustees, the Amarillo School Board, and the attorney for the interested parents in the Glendale Subdivision.

The hearing will be before Deputy Commissioner Alton O. Bowen in the conference room of the Texas Education Agency

Building in Austin.

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling said School Attorney Elton Cox, Supt. Jerry Jacobs and possibly himself will go to Austin for the hearing. Cox is expected to present the case for the local board along with an Austin attorney specializing in school law hired by the school district to aid in their fight.

Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod, by law the attorney for the Randall County School Trustees, said he is as yet unsure whether he will travel to Austin for the hearing.

The hearing involves a Canyon School Board appeal of a decision made in November by the county school trustees allowing 165 acres including the Glendale Subdivision to be detached from the Canyon district and annexed by the Amarillo district.

The school trustees voted 3-2 in favor of the detachment after a multi-hour public hearing during which school officials argued against the action claiming it would set a dangerous precedent which could endanger the future education quality for Canyon school district children.

Five families had sought the detachment of their property as well as about 160 acres of land surrounding the Glendale Subdivision but not owned by Developer Glenn O'Dell. O'Dell said he had an option to purchase part of the property. The property owners had petitioned the county board for the annexation more than a year ago.

The Potter County School Trustees in action also in November approved the detachment and annexation. And, the Amarillo School Board has voted to accept the acreage in the Amarillo school district. They have also gone on record encouraging other developers or landowners to seek similar detachment from the Canyon district for concurrent annexation to their district.

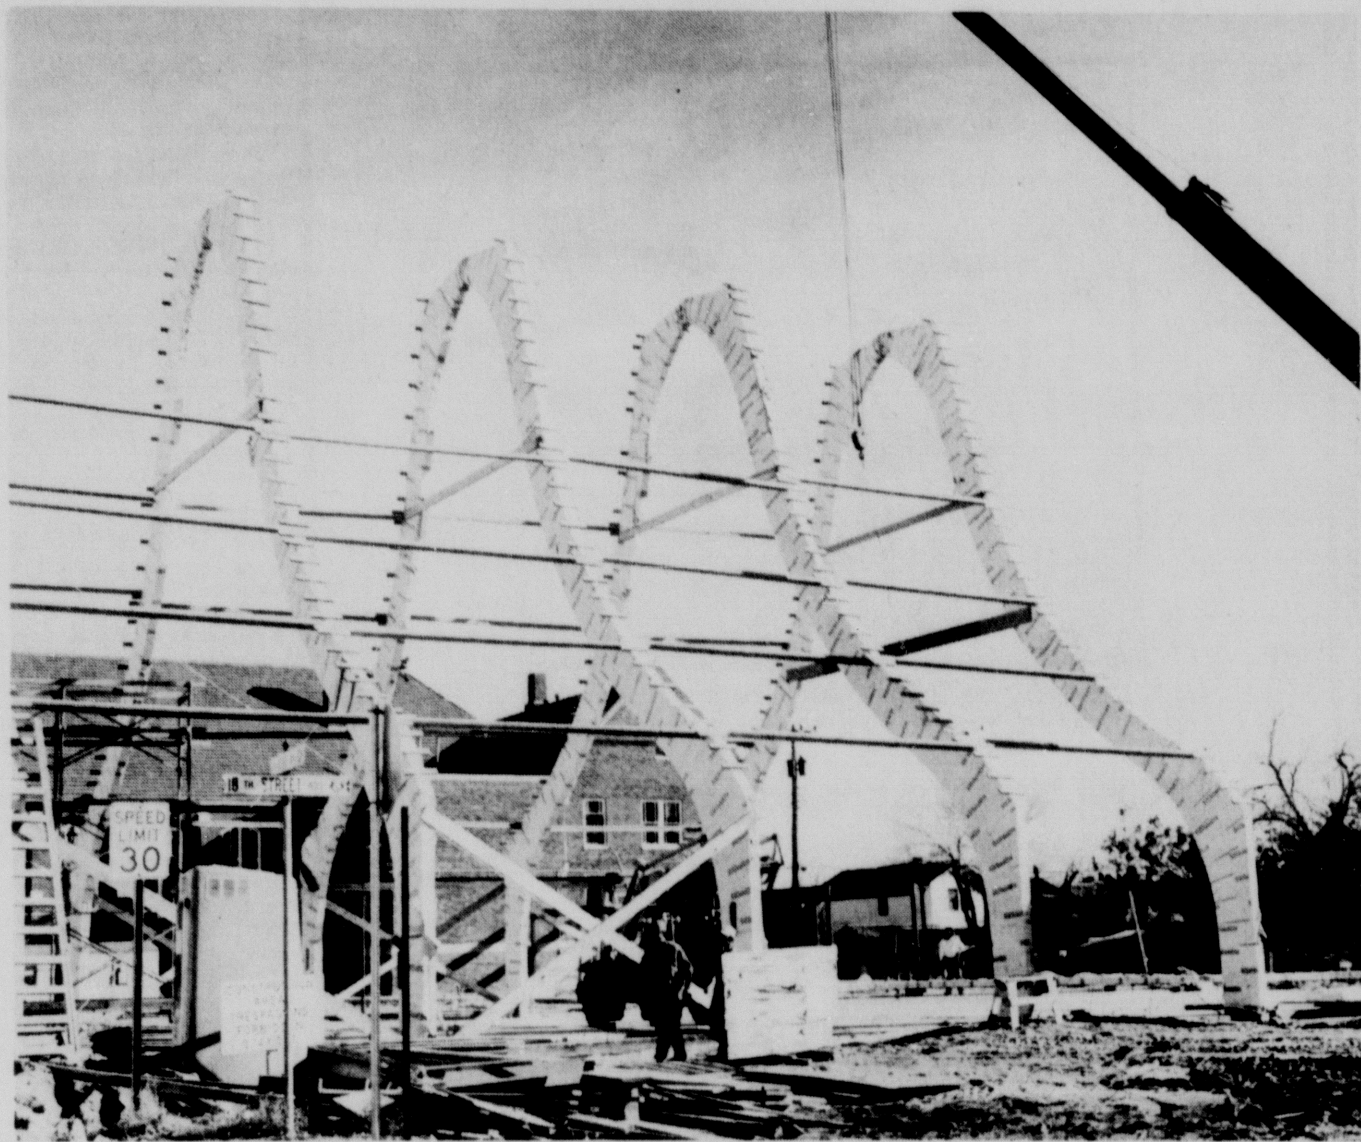

Cox said he will base his appeal argument before the deputy commissioner on the facts of the case as the Canyon school board perceives them.

One part of his argument will encompass the technical error made by the petitioners in filing their petition for detachment with the county school trustees. The petition contained an erroneous property description of the property to be detached and annexed and did not comply with state law which says any property detached and annexed must be contiguous to an existing school district boundary line.

Cox is also expected to argue from the position that the petitioners each own fewer than two acres of land and together less than 10 acres but have acted to detach and annex more than 160 acres of land which does not belong to them or to O'Dell. O'Dell was not a petitioner in the cause.

"I think it all boils down to the fact that the students are getting a qual-

ARCHES FOR A projected half-million dollar expansion at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon were being raised this week by construction crews on the project. The church expansion is to include a new sanctuary, office space, a resource center and additional classroom space. Groundbreaking for the addition was held last August with early construction beginning during September. It is hoped that the church addition will be completed early this summer, according to Rev. Bill Kent, pastor.

Commissioner Pay Stable, Hikes Passed For Others

County commissioners, ignoring their own salaries, passed what amounted to a major pay raise for employees in several departments Monday.

After more than a dozen hours behind closed doors in salary sessions since before Christmas, the commissioners unveiled a pay adjustment plan which gives substantial raises to employees in the Sheriff's office and the district attorney's office.

Some county employees received raises amounting to less than 6 per cent, while others had raises above the 10 per cent level and more.

In making the adjustments, commissioners cast aside the traditional car allowance for elected officials and themselves and, instead, included the travel allowance as part of the set salary.

They held their own salaries — now to include the $100 per month car allowance — at $620 per month or $7440 per year.

Sheriff Cliff Longest received a pay hike from $12,000 per year to $14,400 per year and several pay increases were established for his deputies. While the deputies received a straight 6 per cent pay hike, they will also receive additional funds monthly for professional advancement. They will receive $25 per month uniform allowance, also.

Each deputy will receive an additional $25 per month if he earns state intermediate law enforcement certification and an additional $50 per month for achieving advanced certification through the state.

Other county elected officials received $100 per month raises. District Clerk LaQuitta Polvadore, County Clerk LeRoy Hutton, and Tax Collector Mrs. Audrey Bruse received a pay hike from $825 plus car allowance per month to $1000 per month.

The Criminal District Attorney Randy Sherrod received a pay hike from $1398 plus car allowance to $2000 per year. Sherrod's salary is only supplemented by the county. The bulk of his salary comes from the state treasury.

Although the positions are currently unfilled, commissioners allocated a $14,000 per year salary for a first assistant district attorney and $12,000 per year for another assistant. Assistants under George Dowlen were making $10,800 per year.

The salary of County Treasurer Bob McClendon was left at $8340 per year.

Justices of the Peace W.A. Bill Wilson and W.W. Hancock received raises. Wilson was raised from $8700 per year to $9780 per year and Hancock was raised from $8220 per year to $9300 per year.

County Judge Woody Pond was given a salary hike from

IBM Bid Okayed Over Argument Of Salesman

County commissioners ignored the arguments of an Amarillo business machine dealer Monday and bought $1500 worth of typewriters from IBM, high bidder for the items.

They admitted they have tacitly approved of tightly written bid specifications which exclude typewriter bidders other than IBM, even though IBM typewriters cost between $200 and $300 more per machine than do other machines.

On a motion of Commissioner John Fulgenzi, who defended the bid specifications, the commissioners purchased three typewriters from IBM at a cost of $693 for one and $544 each for two

IBM Selectrics.

A representative of Amarillo Office Machines had bid Olivetti typewriters at a price of $395 each, but noted he could not meet the strict specifications outlined by the county for the bidding.

Other office machine bidders declined to bid on the typewriter items, saying IBM was the only manufacturer who could meet the specifications drawn for the bids.

The bid specifications called for typewriters with non-moveable carriages and with both pica and elite type capability. According to other business machine representatives, only the IBM typewriter can meet those specifications.

President Gerald Ford, of Amarillo Office Machines, questioned the specifications after the bids were opened by commissioners.

"I'd like to mention one thing," Fulgenzi said. "Our intent is not to write closed specs — our intent is to save the taxpayers some money."

The commissioner said when he was first elected to office "we had every kind of typewriter you can think of in the courthouse."

"The only kind which holds up is the IBM."

Fulgenzi said the commissioners want uniformity in type-

WT To Seek Federal Funds To Recruit In Low-Income Area

West Texas State University officials are expected to seek funding this spring for recruiting and counseling of low income students in the Panhandle area.

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, university president, said the prospect for such funding is not encouraging, but he expects application to be made anyway.

The funding would be for recruitment and subsequent counseling of low income and minority students under two federal programs.

"We've not been given much encouragement because those with the programs are gobbling up all the money appropriated," he said.

Watkins said officials travelled to Dallas in December to meet with regional officials of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare and discuss the funding possibilities.

"He said the money is not being increased and we're in a holding pattern," Watkins said.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, university vice president for student affairs, said the university is seeking funding for the so-called federal "Talent Search" program.

Under that program, the university is given funding to recruit minority and low income students from a designated area of the state.

Another program provides special counseling and other services for the students once they become college students.

Carruth said he believes the potential for the program is great in the Panhandle-South Plains area.

A minority student group approached university regents last year during a campus meeting and asked that funds be appropriated for recruitment of minority students for the university.

The regents instructed Watkins at that time to begin studying the possibility of funding such programs.

The university currently has fewer than 500 Mexican-American and Black students on the campus.

250 Animals Prepped For Arena; Annual Stock Show Starts Friday

Two-hundred and fifty animals — everything from lambs to steers — will go through the show arena Friday and Saturday of the Randall County Junior Livestock Show.

About as many youngsters from county 4-H clubs and from the local Future Farmers of American chapter have spent the week preparing their animals for the show ring.

Show officials are expecting well over 100 lamb entries, nearly 100 hog entries, about 15 steers, and only a handful of beef and dairy heifers.

Action for the 27th annual junior livestock show kicks off Friday afternoon with the beef heifer, dairy heifer and horse judging contests.

The dairy heifer judging begins at 3 p.m. at the J.O. Parker Memorial Building. Mike Hinders is superintendent of the Dairy Department and a grand champion and reserve champion will be selected. A showmanship trophy will also be awarded.

Beef heifer judging begins at 3:30 p.m. at the Parker Memorial Building. John McNeil is superintendent of the beef cattle department.

Horse judging begins at 4:30 p.m. at the West Texas State University pavilion. Wendell Trammel is superintendent of the department. Classes will include Quarter Horse breeding and other horses.

Saturday is the big day of the show and it begins early for the exhibitors.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will cook its annual breakfast for the participants and their families and will begin serving the meal of scrambled eggs, bacon and biscuits at 6:30 a.m. at the Canyon community center. The serving will end at 7:30 a.m.

Swine judging begins the day at 9 a.m. at the Parker Memorial Building. Walter Cranmer is superintendent of the department.

Sheep judging follows at 1 p.m. with Bill McCarley as superintendent.

Steers will be judged at 3 p.m.

The auction sale of the animals will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Parker Memorial Building.

Awards will be presented prior to the sale, including the Farmer Schaeffer Award, presented annually by the livestock association.

The Randall County Farm Bureau will present showmanship trophies to the designated winners in each department and the Canyon Kiwanis Club will give trophies for presentation to the novice winners in each department, except the horse department. The Randall County Sheriff's Posse will present the horse department novice award.

Overall showmanship trophy will be given by the American Legion, and Walter Cranmer will give the herdsman trophies.

The Wilford Taylor Sr. Memorial Scholarship Award will be presented by the Taylor family and Triple H Farms will present the premier exhibitor award.

Consumers Fuel of Canyon has donated the trophies for the various champions.

General superintendent of the livestock show is Wesley Bourn. This year's president of the association is Bob Gruner. Vice president is Joe Turpin and secretary-treasurer is Ray Hinders.

WTSU President Calls For Unity Against New Schools Construction

The president of West Texas State University called on college administrators from throughout the country Wednesday to take a stand against further proliferation of institutions for higher education.

"Nearly every thinking educator understands intellectually that the days of gross numerical expansion for post-secondary academic education are at an end," Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins told summer session administrators attending sessions in Phoenix, Ariz. "Strangely enough, however, many educators and legislators, aided and abetted by chambers of commerce, appear emotionally unable to accept the demographic handwriting on the wall, and pressures continue for expanding the numbers of institutions, regardless of the extent of the burden on taxpayers and of the consequences to existing institutions."

Final speaker at the Second National Institute in Summer Term Administration, Watkins outlined what he termed the "gloomy big picture" in higher education today, one of fewer and fewer students, and said against this backdrop there can be no rationale for establishment of new colleges and universities.

The picture for higher education, he said, has changed dramatically in the past decade, at the beginning of which respected educators were sounding the call for vastly expanded universities to meet tremendous numerical demands for student entry.

"Outrageous growth was the order of the time between June and September of 1964," he said, giving only one illustration of the growth experienced by colleges during the '60s. But, that has all changed.

Quoting a respected University of California, Los Angeles educator, Watkins pointed out that stability is predicted in student numbers for the remainder of this decade, but a decline in the academic labor market is seen for the '80s.

"During the '50s and '60s, we sold increased appropriations on increasing enrollments," he said. "In the '70s, coordinating boards and legislators are reminding us that if more students necessitated increased appropriations, fewer students should call for restricted appropriations."

In light of the decreasing enrollments nationwide, Watkins called on the summer session directors to take an active stance against further construction of new institutions.

"We are already overbuilt in many parts of the country," he said. "I am not arguing against the creation of necessary institutions, although I seriously doubt that there are many areas not now well served by post-secondary education units. We simply cannot afford to have a post-secondary institution in every city and hamlet, and further proliferation will assuredly injure most existing colleges and universities and destroy some."

Watkins also suggested that the summer term directors open their programs to more non-traditional potential college students and that they stand united in an effort to obtain financial aid for students who cannot carry full college loads.

"You must plan a summer session which will assist your college or university in reaching its share of the student market," he said. "Some of the summer programs in our nation's institutions have achieved great success, but I must warn you that unless your program becomes a positive economic factor for your college or university, you can expect it to be a prime candidate for the economic paring knife."

An increase in student enrollment in summer sessions must come from those students typically labelled as non-traditional — the employed adults, the economically disadvantaged, housewives and the elderly.

"I am always impressed by the gap between our rhetoric and our practices," he said. "We talk of 'life-long learning' while clinging to admissions, registration and scheduling practices designed to make matters convenient for administration but difficult for prospective students. Sometimes we still act as if we desired to keep students out of the halls of academe, when in fact we desperately need to entice them in."

Additional enticement can be added, he said, by obtaining in-

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

People who live in the past and remember with nostalgia the "good old days" simply haven't got very acute memories.

Exactly 45 years ago today was a Thursday and The Canyon News, edited by Clyde W. Warwick came out as usual. Folks today would drool over the prices offered by Canyon's M System grocery store.

Corned, home-butchered steak was advertised at 24 cents a pound. A 25-pound bag of sugar was billed at $1.59.

The only trouble was that few people had the 24 cents to buy the pound of steak. Labor was going for as little as 10 cents an hour and it took two and a half hours to put a pound of steak on the dinner table.

In the same length of time today a worker earning $3 an hour can pay for 3.75 pounds of steak at the grocery store.

The bag of sugar would cost a $3 an hour worker today 4.65 hours of labor whereas in 1930 he would have to work 11 hours.

We are better fed, better housed, better educated and better off in every way — save one — than the people of January 1930 who patronized the M System Grocery and the People's Department Store operated by the late W.A. Warren here in Canyon.

The one exception would be interference of government in the lives of private citizens 45 years ago.

Even then, most communities were in the tight grip of a gentry which called the shots with unbelievable authority. Like nobility of medieval Europe they controlled the means of livelihood for the communities in which they lived and what they had to say got the attention of everyone.

I was surprised to learn that Jack Benny lived in the Panhandle when he was a youngster.

According to the Dalhart Texan, Benny lived in Dalhart from the time he was 4 years old until he was 9. In fact, Benny must have started to school at Dalhart.

His parents operated a clothing store in the north Panhandle town.

It's going to be a great day for folks living in Hunsley Hills when the ribbon is cut on the 15th Street overpass.

Right now it's about a 3-mile round trip to town.

Besides that, you simply can't keep your car clean in the vicinity of the road work now going on along Highway 60 in preparation for the overpass. A car wash lasts about 5 minutes as dust settles.

Completion date currently is targeted for April 15.

The Russians claim to have invented everything from the wheel to atomic energy.

They announced unbelievable feats in the field of medicine and surgery during and after World War II.

News has leaked out that Russian Dictator Leonoid Brezhnev has leukemia.

You'd think he would go to one of the super hospitals in Moscow to be treated by one of the miracle-working Soviet physicians.

But where do you think he is being hospitalized?

In Boston, Mass., where he will receive the ministrings of free enterprise medicine.

Brezhnev knows you can't trust the state with your life, not even when you run it.

City Eyes Fire Plan Favorably

Manager George Louder said he and local fire officials had a major role in the formulation of the plan.

City Attorney Elton Cox told the commissioners the plan is too vague as presented to allow for the precise wording needed in a binding contract between the various entities involved in the plan.

But, Louder said the plan was not intended to, in itself, be the contract instrument.

The plan calls for the Canyon department to assume responsibility for fighting fires in all of Randall County, including the area north of Hollywood Road, which heretofore has been the responsibility of the City of Amarillo.

But, joining with Canyon to fight rural fires would be the departments from Happy, Umlar, Bushland, Lake Tanglewood and Amarillo. Those departments would have first-call responsibility for fires in their immediate areas but back-up responsibility for other area fires.

The plan, approved by county commissioners last month, is the long-awaited answer to a monetary crunch posed by the City of Amarillo when it began charging the county $845 per fire call answered in rural areas outside the city limits.

Under the plan, the county is to purchase a 5000-gallon water truck for use by the Canyon Fire Department and is to up its annual payment for exchanged services to the City of Canyon.

City commissioners took no action on the plan at their meeting.

In other business, commissioners went into brief executive session to discuss appointments to the city's Planning and Zoning Commission. The terms of Joe Gidden, Bill Sternberg and Murphy White have expired as of Jan. 1.

Commissioners also approved a plat for Tierra Blanca Addition presented by A.L. Crossland. The subdivision is in the eastern portion of the city.

An ordinance issuing $95,000 worth of certificates of deposit to pay Paige & Wirtz Construction Co. of Amarillo for the most recent progress on the construction of the new city hall building was passed by commissioners.

They also passed a resolution, although only a formality, enforcing a Texas code on waste water standards. Louder said the city has been enforcing the act for three years.

Commissioners voted to purchase a truck for the water and sewer department from Imperial Chevrolet for $4157.65. Other bidders were Stevenson Motor Co. with a bid of $4274.67, and Jess Ford Co. with a bid of $4305.95.

Commissioners also passed a final order completing their 1974 paving assessment program for several streets in the western portion of the city.

Fannings Visit Folks Downstate

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Fanning have returned to Canyon after spending about two weeks visiting with relatives in various areas of Texas. The Fannings began their trip with a stop at the home of their son's family, Lon Fanning, Jr. and wife, Joan, and son, Mark, at Bonham.

Mr. and Mrs. Fanning later spent some time at Clear Lake City (near Houston) at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Nedra) Davis and their three children, Robyn, John and Jason, for a few days. While at the Davis home, the Fannings were joined by another son, Jim, who is teaching at Wharton Junior College.

College level classes of the First Baptist Church are at Santa Fe, N.M. this week end, Jan. 12-15, for a skiing retreat. About 40 are signed for the trip.

Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest was presented the L.S. Slim Johnston Service Award by members of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse Friday night during a banquet here. Johnston was for many years the county sheriff before his death two years ago.

1974 Citizen Of Year Named By Chamber

Canyon Chamber of Commerce directors voted unanimously Monday night on the selection of the 1974 Citizen of the Year.

But, their choice won't be made public until the annual chamber banquet Feb. 15.

Chamber Manager Roland Black said it was the first time in his memory that directors had made a unanimous decision on the honoree.

Four persons were nominated for the honor by local service and other clubs.

Last year's Citizen of the Year was County Judge Woody Pond.

In other business Monday night, the directors set plans for their Saturday morning exhibitor's breakfast for the participants in the Randall County Junior Livestock Show. The breakfast begins at 6:30 a.m. at the community center.

Chamber President Weldon Trice also made committee assignments:

- *Agriculture committee — Woody Pond, chairman; Richard Tung, co-chairman.
- *Business Development committee — Don Johnson, chairman; Lois Rice, co-chairman.
- *Education committee — Gene Glazener, chairman; Phil Langen, co-chairman.

Grand Jury Returns Bills

Randall County grand jurors Monday returned indictments against four persons, including an indictment against Sammy Jay Gamblin of Amarillo on charges of murder and attempted murder.

Charlotte Jean Doyle was indicted on a charge of attempting to obtain a controlled substance by forgery. Lonnie D. Francis was indicted on a charge of forgery by passing and Delilah Moore was also indicted on the same charge.

Gamblin is charged with the shooting death of Carl Martin Prickett, of 3809 Danbury. He is charged with the attempted murder of his wife, Elaine Gamblin. The shootings are alleged to have occurred on Dec. 17.

Gamblin has been released from Randall County jail on $10,000 bond.

Premiere Given For Exhibition

Bi-centennial chairmen representing 29 counties participated in a gala premiere last Tuesday evening at Western Plaza in preparation for the 200th birthday of America.

The premiere involved Industrial Heritage U.S.A., an exhibit contrasting the old and new, to be on display January 8-12 at Western Plaza Mall, 1-40 and Western Street, Amarillo.

Canyon participants in the premiere were Mrs. Claire Kuehn, Dr. Fred Rathjen, Mrs. Pat Stephens and J.D. Strickland.

Soviet Union Trip To Be USC Program

Lois Hull will speak for the University Study Club of Canyon, Friday, at 1:15 p.m. at the Girl Scout Building. Mrs. Hull will be showing slides and reviewing a recent trip to the Soviet Union where she saw the Russian Ballet and other sights.

USC president, Mrs. John Childs, will be presiding at the meeting as new members are welcomed and a brief officer election is conducted. The club recently voted to have officers elected on two-year terms.

Pay . . .

$10,800 plus car allowance to $12,920 without car allowance. County Auditor Betty Hodges figures the salaries for county employees for 1975 will cost about $700,000. In other business Monday, commissioners altered their personnel policy for county employees and added a provision that henceforth all prospective county employees must take a routine physical examination before being hired. The policy was altered at the suggestion of Commissioner Paul Lindsey, who said the physical exams had proven advantageous in hiring for the county road maintenance department. Road hands were required to have physicals before being hired as of Jan. 1 last year. Commissioners also worried about overtime pay for county employees and stressed they are not interested in paying overtime. Landsey suggested county office supervisors stagger the working hours of their employees to eliminate overtime. Commissioners agreed to the appointment of Commissioner Jim Fletcher, Richard L. Jones and the Rev. Jacinto Alderete, both of Amarillo, and Dr. Ross Staton of Canyon to the board of Potter-Randall County Child Welfare.

Dimes March Seeks Helpers

"With the same help from an informed public that we have had in the past, the March of Dimes will launch another volunteer drive against birth defects during January," says Mrs. Orrell Vise, Canyon campaign director for the 1975 Mothers March. "We are asking people in Canyon to offer their time and energy toward our goal, that of providing year-round support for research and medical service programs committed to prevention of birth defects." The March of Dimes, she explains, is not only concerned with extending medical treatment to those already afflicted, but in sparing those unborn from physical and mental handicaps. Much progress already has been made through early detection of high-risk pregnancy and immediate use of modern, life saving intensive care nurseries. Anyone interested in helping to overcome our nation's most serious child health problem by joining other Canyon women for the Mothers March Sunday, Jan. 26, from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. may call 655-7448.

ity education in the Canyon schools and that it would not be much benefit to them to change districts," Cox said. He said he anticipates no surprise moves in the appeal hearing. "If they (the commissioner) permit a developer to succeed in detaching not only his land, but land which he does not own and land which he does not even contemplate owning in the future, it will be a grave injustice to the Canyon School District," Cox said. Cox said he does not know when the deputy commissioner will make a decision on the hearing appeal. But, he said, he is certain if the appeal goes against the Canyon district the appeal will be carried to the Texas Board of Education and then into the state court system.

"One thing appears certain: the individual whose circumstances dictate that he or she pursue education at the pace of three or six credits a semester or quarter finds precious little assistance available. Many of the 'non-traditional' students we spoke of earlier must take light loads, and we are not adjusting our financial aid program to their needs."

'We'll Be Ready' Ekker Says Of Louisville Game Tonight

It was a Sunday afternoon in October. West Texas State had been in practice for what seemed to be an interminable number of days without rest to the players.

Still Ron Ekker drove his players on, and as they finished the day with a flurry of windsprints, he gave it all a reason.

"I'll bet Louisville isn't working this hard today," he said.

Whether the Cardinals were indeed working hard that day or not, Coach Denny Crum's team today owns enough talent and skill to come into the Civic Center with a national ranking and the favorite's roll in the Missouri Valley Conference race.

Prior to Tuesday night's game against Cincinnati in Louisville, the Cards had reeled off eight straight wins for their best start in six seasons, boosting them to the number three spot in the wire service polls.

Balance is the name of the Louisville game. Crum can call on individual stars like Junior Bridgeman and Allen Murphy, both 6-5 seniors, or go to the bench and get a performer like 6-10 freshman Ricky Gallon.

Bridgeman, the player of the year in the MVC last year, will join 6-2 Phil Bond at guard, Murphy and 6-5 sophomore Wesley Cox will be the forwards, and 6-8 1/2 Bill Buntin will get the starting nod at center.

For West Texas State to be playing Louisville at this juncture — after two road losses in which the defense just wasn't there — seems to border on the absurd. But then you remember the Ekker taunts during October.

"In the last list of the top 150 teams in the nation, West Texas wasn't in it," Ekker candidly admits. "Louisville was number three. Now what kind of effort do you think it will take for us to win?"

The Buffs return to the Civic Center with a 4-4 record, but three of the losses have come in a row. Now the Buffs must regroup in time for the tough MVC race.

WTSU has never beaten Louisville, coming up on the short end of the stick three times. Last year's 99-73 win in Louisville had marked the most points given up by an Ekker team at WT until St. Louis took a 100-61 win last Saturday afternoon.

Ekker makes only one promise this week before the Louisville game. "We'll be ready to play," he predicts, and he has meant it since October.

Mean Green Next Foe Saturday

The Buffaloes of Ron Ekker will be at home again Saturday night for a contest with the North Texas State Mean Green.

With only a 3-6 season mark so far, the Green are predicted to be a tougher team than they appear when they come to the Amarillo Civic Center for the outing.

They have suffered four of their defeats by a total margin of only nine points with only Nebraska and North Carolina-Charlotte taking easy wins.

Before the Christmas holidays, which saw the Green take 10 days off, the North Texans played well in taking a fourth place finish in the 39th annual All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City. They defeated Niagara, 5-1 at the time, in the first round and lost to Centenary, 6-2, in semifinals and lost to NC-Charlotte in the third place game.

Guard Earl King, 6-1, earned a berth in the five-player all-tournament team and hit a career high of 31 points in the tourney opener.

In addition to King, the Mean Green have a couple of near-7 footers to boost their play. Freshman Melvin Davis, 6-8, is bagging rebounds at a clip well over 10 per game and 6-8 junior Terry Bailey is also high on the boards. Bailey is the third best shooter in the current Missouri Valley Conference stats, hitting 45 of 72 for a 62.5 percentage.

Booster Club Sets Important Meeting Monday

Canyon Eagle Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Monday evening, Jan. 13, at the Canyon High School cafeteria to make plans for the upcoming athletic banquet and to further discuss and make final decisions in regards to disbursement of funds.

"The Booster Club members are urged to be present as we will discuss what our project of the year is to be," according to B.B. Kendrick, head coach of the school are urged to attend.

Gary Fletcher, chairman of the Booster Club, will be presiding at the meeting as parents of all boy and girl athletes of the school are urged to attend.

A brief discussion is also scheduled in regard to Booster Club officers for next year.

Boxers In Golden Gloves

Canyon Boxing Club ended a participated during the week part at a 3-day Amarillo Invitational Golden Gloves Tournament.

Losing on the first night in 3-round decisions were:

*70 lbs. — Rodney Smith, Amarillo, a decision over Louis Ruiz, Canyon.

*75 lbs. — Albert Navarrette, Amarillo, decision over Joe Doss, Canyon.

*80 lbs. — Mark Betterton, Guymon, decision over Ernie Peterson, Canyon.

*90 lbs. — Dusty Price, Leveland, decision over Johnny Johnson, Canyon.

In the second go-round on Friday night the following results were listed:

*65 lbs. — Ted Clement, Canyon, decision over David Bernal, Amarillo.

*65 lbs. — Abel Tijerina, Hereford, decision over Tom Peterson, Canyon.

Later Friday evening in a junior special class semi-final match Ted Clement lost a close three-round decision to Bobo Navarrette of Amarillo.

Saturday's finals saw Canyon's Paul Peterson lose a 3-round decision to Mark Martinez of Guymon in the 80 lb. category and receive a medal for the runner-up slot.

Canyon Boxing Club coaches for the team have been Troy Mitchell and Elmer Clement this year and on Saturday night, Jan. 11, the team will be travelling to Stinnett for a one-night session of fights. On Jan. 16, 17, and 18, the local team will be representing Canyon in the Lubbock Invitational.

New Babies, Deaths Mark Entrance Of New Year

By MARY NEAL HENRY

TODAY WE LIVE in an era of contradiction — shortages in the midst of abundances; starving people during an oversupply of food; government threatening to raise taxes and then talking of lowering them; more people working in government than are being governed. Where do all the signs lead? Which ones should we follow? People will follow almost anyone and yet trust no one. The louder one can yell or the more derogatory one can be, the more news coverage seems to be available to them. To be heard seems to be the mark of authority. Any statement is taken as fact. Do we no longer think for ourselves?

As I look back at 1974, I realize even more the ever-changing world in which we live. Facts and industries seemingly change overnight. When I began to promote beef, my greatest concern was the plight of the American cattleman. Every other country in the world closed their borders to protect their domestic market. America did not possess that same intelligence. Even so, my greatest concern now is the future of America. Food is so competitive. No advertising impresses on the minds of young homemakers the importance of the basic four — and beef and other meats is certainly one of those basics. And so are milk, cheese and eggs one of them, and breads and cereals, and fruit and vegetables. All these are necessary to build strong minds as well as bodies for America's future citizens. Even during our economic crisis the same ingredients are necessary to the rearing of children as during the "olden days." There is no substitute in the rearing of children, America's future leaders, as correct nourishing food and love.

What were your New Year's Resolutions? THINK! Be a more clever person this year. Find your facts instead of taking everyone's or anyone's word.

EULA BONDS LOST her mother last week. Eula and T.J. are our mailmen. Excellent ones, too. Always going that extra mile. Mrs. Lena Ann Weathers, 88, died Thursday last week and was buried in Lockney on Saturday. She is survived by five daughters, Eula, Mrs. Charlie Samples and Mrs. Horace Weeks, both of Amarillo, Mrs. Vaughn Allen of Clovis, and Mrs. Robert Cathey of Stonewall; two sons, Tom R. of Lockney and J.L. of Petersburg; one sister, Mrs. John Gill of Celeste; 20 grandchildren; 34 great-grandchildren; and six great-great-grandchildren. Eula said that they also lost their father at the age of 88, which was five years ago.

HAPPY LOST ONE of its oldest citizens last Sunday, Sid

Guest. Mr. Guest was 91 years old. He had farmed in this area and worked for both the city and the county. And he was a good hand at the domino table. He had been a patient in Neblett Memorial Hospital since before Thanksgiving.

Sidney A. Guest was born at Woodland, Miss., and married Rena Belle Neal in 1904 at Houston, Miss. She died little more than a year ago. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Happy where services were held on Tuesday afternoon. Burial was also in Happy.

Survivors include two sons, Milton of Albuquerque and Carves of Happy; a brother, Elzo of Happy; 11 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren. A son was killed in the war and a stepson, Dick Lancaster, also preceded Mr. Guest in death.

KISKA (ROGERS) AND Joe Watson are the pleased parents of a baby girl born last Friday, Jan. 4. She weighed just over six pounds.

MR. AND MRS. Dick Zachary of Ft. Towson, Okla., announce the new arrival of a daughter, Mitzi Ann, on Jan. 2, 1975, at 7:28 a.m. Mitzi weighed eight pounds and nine ounces and is 21 inches long.

JO ANN (USED TO be Young when she was in Happy Jr. High) and her husband have a new baby born about the middle of December in Amarillo. Maybe someone can help me with the facts — including Jo Ann's name.

FRANK AND POLLY Walters returned home last week end after their extended stay in the hospital. Polly was ill, too, we were told, before Frank regained his health. We are pleased to hear they are better. Their daughter, Eva Owen returned home last week end after spending four weeks up here.

MARY ANN AND Don Magness are home again from Houston. Don seems to be feeling better these days. That's good!

New Degree Plans Open For 'Non-Traditional Students'

West Texas State University opens the door to "non-traditional" students during the spring term with two baccalaureate-level degree programs designed to meet a student's individual desires and needs.

Counseling services are established for the term for beginning enrollments in programs leading to either the Bachelor of General Studies degree or the Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree.

The spring term is the first during which students may sign up for courses in direct pursuit of either of the two new degree programs, approved only last fall by the university's board of regents and the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Degrees in both areas could be awarded for the first time following the second summer term of 1975.

Each degree is designed to meet the specific needs of students who might not traditionally pursue a college education, according to the WTSU officials overseeing the programs.

The Bachelor of General Studies degree, for example, "would be a natural for senior citizens," according to Dr. Theodore Freidell, dean of the school of arts and sciences.

Freidell said already nearly a dozen persons have indicated an interest in pursuing degree requirements for the BGS program.

Another group the program is aimed to help is one traditionally stymied in the higher education process — the housewife.

While the BGS degree is not recommended and not offered to actually prepare the student for a particular career, it does offer the student widespread exposure to college courses and may be tailored to fit the individual student's interests.

Freidell said for many more mature community residents the degree offers them the opportunity to either return to college or take a chance with college courses without the pressure which accompanies usual course loads.

"They can come and start with one course," Freidell said, "just to try it. They don't have to begin in a full-blown manner. In fact, they don't have to start out taking the general education requirements. They can worry about the requirements later on."

Students who pursue the BGS program no longer are required to complete 24 of their final 30 semester hours in residence.

The program is flexible because it allows for a large number of elective courses.

To receive a degree through the program, the student must complete with a grade average of at least "C" a total of 124 semester hours. Of that 124 hours, from 35 to 37 hours must be of the general university-wide educational core curriculum which includes nine hours of English, three to six hours of communications, fine arts and humanities, six to eight hours of natural science, 12 to 15 hours of social sciences and two hours of physical education or the equivalent.

The remainder of the coursework is elective with no major or minor required. However, no more than 30 semester hours may be applied towards the degree from any one academic discipline.

Students desiring more information or assistance in the program should contact Dr. Feidell or Dr. Robert Sawvell, chairman of the geography department.

The Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree program is designed for a student who has already proven ability in occupational or technical specialties.

A so-called inverted degree, the program initially is designed for students with an associate degree in a recognized technical or occupational specialty who wants professional breadth and depth and more academic foundation.

Dr. Ron Huffstutler, assistant vice president for academic affairs, said each program for the degree will be individually tailored for the student, to build on his technical or vocational education.

The student must complete 124 semester hours of college work to receive the degree with 30 advanced hours, completion of the general educational core curriculum, completion of a vocational specialization core of 48 semester hours (it is anticipated the student will garner these hours before coming to the university), a professional development core of 18 to 24 hours and other approved electives.

The hours in each core will be worked out between the student and a special committee within the university.

Further information on the Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree may be obtained through Dr. Huffstutler.

Ramey Leaves WTSU Squad

Reggie Ramey, the leading scorer for West Texas State University during the 1973-74 basketball season, has been granted a leave of absence from the team by Head Coach Ron Ekker.

"Reggie has left the squad for an unlimited time to do some personal thinking," Ekker said in a prepared statement. "He will be allowed back on the squad when he wishes with qualifications that he and I have decided upon."

Ekker did not elaborate on those qualifications, nor did he speculate as to the length of Ramey's absence.

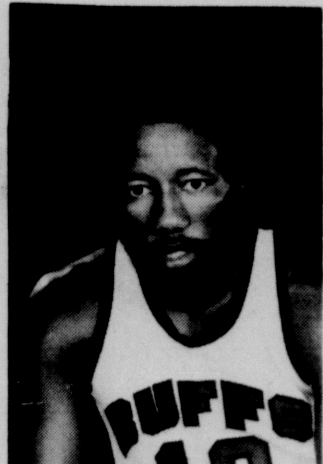

Ramey, a 6-8 junior center from Philadelphia, led the Buffaloes to a 11-15 record last year with his 17.5 scoring average. This season, he is averaging 13.1 points per game.

Ramey moved into the number 10 position on WTSU's career scoring list last Saturday in St. Louis when his 12 points put his 56 game total at 931 points.

West Texas State is currently 4-4 with games this week against Louisville and North Texas State.

WT Star Taylor Knows His Own Limitations

Howard Taylor

Baby Boy's Birth Told By C. Hams

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ham who reside at 1424 9th Avenue, Canyon, announce the birth of a son, Michael Edward, who arrived Jan. 3 at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

The baby boy weighed 6 pounds, 14 1/2 ounces and measured 19 inches at birth. The infant's father is involved in farming.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F.K. Olson of Canyon. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ham, also of Canyon and the maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.F. McAnnelly of Dallas.

HUNSLEY HILLS

One thing about Howard Taylor is that he knows his limitations.

Not that he is really limited in any phase of the game. It's just that Taylor realizes that (a) he is not 7-feet tall, and (b) he doesn't have the range of an ICBM.

"He knows what his shooting range is, he finds it, and then he gets the good shots," Coach Ron Ekker says. In a sentence, that statement's just a capsule philosophy of the West Texas State offense, and that's what makes Taylor such a valuable asset.

Taylor wasn't always so highly thought of. He wasn't the most recruited player in the country two years ago despite being the nation's seventh best scorer in the junior college ranks with a 27.8 average for Northwest Mississippi JC.

Same thing in high school where he averaged 24 points per outing, but he did it from forward. At the high school and junior college levels, a 6-2 player could play forward, but his lack of ball-handling experience drove the major college recruiters away.

All but Ron Ekker. He took the chance, and the Buffs have been rewarded with one of the best guards in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Taylor ended the 1974 season with a rush, averaging over 25 points over the last four games. This year, he has kept it up, scoring at a 20.9 norm in seven games.

As impressive is his 53.4 per cent field goal mark, the best of the team. "He's just a fine shooter who seldom takes a bad shot," Ekker adds.

The Buff coach sums it up when he says, "He may be one of the finer guards in the valley this year."

WT Graduate In Psi Chi

West Texas State University graduate student Mrs. Rhodora Kathleen Landreth has been initiated into Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology, with active membership in the WTSU chapter.

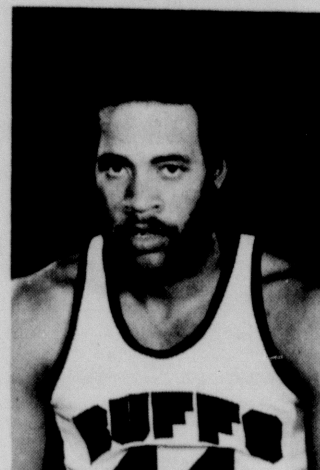

She and her husband Edward Wade reside at 3439 Amherst in Amarillo. Landreth is a civil engineer with the Santa Fe Railroad. Mrs. Landreth received her bachelor of science for the University of Missouri in Rolla in 1970.

Psi Chi was organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of the American Psychological Association, Washington, D.C., to recognize scholarship prowess in the field of psychology.

Over 300 chapters have been established on campuses in all the states. About 45 per cent of the members are undergraduate students, with the remaining 55 per cent pursuing graduate degrees.

The West Texas State University Chapter was established formally in October, 1971, at Canyon, Texas.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Clifford Franklins Announce Birth

The infant weighed 6 pounds at birth and measured 19 inches. He has been named Daniel Clifford.

The father is a graduate student at West Texas State University and the mother is majoring in music education at the university.

Grandparents are M/Sgt and Mrs. Francis K. LaPin of Michigamme, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Franklin of Weatherford, Texas.

By DORIS McKEE
MONDAY WAS BACK to school for all the kids and we moms gave a sigh of relief that once again we had made it through the holidays. Now everyone can settle back into a regular routine.

WASN'T THE SNOW beautiful? Of course, it is always prettier to us people who don't have to get out and drive in it. I love to watch it fall and to walk in it.

Royce, Tod and DeAnn got out in the yard and rolled up a couple of big snowmen, and they stayed around for several days before they gave into the sun and melted away. But we'll get to see more snow before long.

THE BOY SCOUTS had another meeting at the recreation building, Monday night, Jan. 6th at 7:00 p.m. We are still looking for boys who want to be cub scouts and boy scouts. If you are 10½ or older you can be a boy scout and under 10½ are eligible for cub scouts.

The Cub Scout den will meet each Thursday after the buses run, at the recreation building, time approximately 4 p.m.

The Boy Scout troop will meet each Monday night at 7 p.m. at the recreation building.

Come on boys, let's get us a real scout troop going out here.

MORRIS (HUD) HUD-DESTON entered St. Anthony's Hospital Monday morning, Jan. 6, for tests. He has not been feeling well for a while now. Hud is the father of Jack Hud-deston, the owner of Siesta Park.

CONGRATULATIONS TO SOME ex-residents of Siesta, Pamela and Richard James, who now live at White Fence Farms, are the proud parents of a son, born Monday, Dec. 30, at North-west Texas Hospital. He weighed in at 7 lbs. 1½ ozs. and they named him Ryan Kieth Colyer James. This is their first child.

SPEAKING OF EX-RESIDENTS of Siesta, Pearl West said she had a long letter this week from Sandy Hardy, who now lives in Kentucky. She is working and doing real good. The girls are in the first grade and kindergarten. Sandy said to tell everyone hello.

LINDA SHAFFER IS having a Tupperware party next week and wants to extend an invite to all ladies who want to come. It will be at 10:00 Wednesday morning, Jan. 15, at 203 La Fiesta.

IT SEEMS THAT a neighbor of mine, a couple of trailers down, just couldn't be satisfied not to stir up the new car fever in all. Saturday afternoon Peck and Faye Risner came driving up, just big as life, in a brand new Chevrolet Monte Carlo. It is burgundy and white and a dream.

Seems Peck and Faye tried the car out on a trip to Oklahoma City Monday when he had to go back to the V.A. hospital there for a checkup on his ear.

One other bit of information, Peck and Faye spent Christmas Day with Faye's mother, Mrs. C.A. Dodson, in Canyon.

CHARLES AND CLARICE Heglin spent their Christmas in Denver, with Clarice's sister and family. They were there for a week and had a very nice visit.

TIM AND SUSAN Padgett took Laura and Chad to spend Christmas with the grandparents in Perryton, including Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tabor, Susan's folks and Mr. and Mrs. O.E. Padgett, Tim's folks.

On New Year's Day Susan's folks came to see them and also Susan's sister, Mrs. Cindy Pshigoda.

LARRY AND NORMA Welter took their kids and spent Christmas Eve at Phillips with Norma's folks, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Langley.

On Christmas Day the Langley's were here for dinner and a few days visit.

For New Year's Larry and Norma left the kids with her folks in Phillips and they went to see friends, Don and Ann Friemel in Claude and report "a real good time."

FLOYD AND JONNIE Robertson, and sons, Joel and Darrel, spent Christmas Eve with Floyd's grandmother.

On Christmas Day they were at Jonnie's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Oswald, in Borger.

New Year's Floyd and Jonnie celebrated by going dancing with Dale and Jerry Nolen at a local nightclub.

KATHY AND IRA Burgan had visitors over the holidays.

The Jimmy Carters, who use to be their neighbors were here for several days. Kathy said the Carters just love it down south.

Also visiting the Burgan's over Christmas were Debbie and John Grigsby of Garland. Debbie is Kathy's sister.

They spent New Year's at her folks, Gene and Maxine Collins, in Amarillo and showed movies taken in years past.

EUNICE AND BARNEY Miss Hollenstein Presented Shower Sunday

Miss Glenda Hollenstein, bride-elect of Donald Britten, was honored Sunday afternoon, Jan. 5, between 2:30 and 4 p.m. with a miscellaneous bridal shower at the Episcopal University Center. The couple is to be married on Friday evening, Jan. 10.

Receiving guests with the honoree Sunday afternoon were her mother, Mrs. Anton Hollenstein of Umbarger, and Mrs. Ray Britten of Groom, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Josephine Britten, also of Groom, was present to receive guests.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and burgundy were carried out in decorations for the occasion with a burgundy cloth covering the table. The centerpiece featured a basket filled with calico flowers which were intermingled with baby's breath and framed by the basket's handle. Crystal appointments were used for the occasion as the prospective bridegroom's sisters, Sandi Britten and Cathy Britten, served at the table. Registering guests was Mrs. John Brazzil.

Hostesses for the afternoon shower were Mesdames Clarence Howard, Lewis Tuck, Alvin Friemel, A.R. Friemel, Bob Chambers, Winston Hall, John Brazzil and Jones Hales.

Rinehart were in Quanah for Christmas Day at Jody and Betty Lemon's.

Also present were Kathy, Johnny and Matt Ashcraft of Brownwood and Gladys and Guinn Davenport of Vernon.

Christmas evening she and Barney went to Vernon with Gladys and Guinn, and spent the night and came home on Thursday.

When I asked her how she spent New Year she said she slept right through it!

Last Friday their daughter and family, Charolite and Tom McWilliams, Sr. and Mark and Laine went to Albuquerque for the week end and visited their son and daughter-in-law.

This week end Tom and Belanie McWilliams, Jr. were here for a visit. One of these week ends the time will be right and Eunice will be off to Albuquerque to spend a week end with Tom and Belanie.

TALKED TO SANDY Floyd a few days ago. She said they just stayed around home these holidays.

Mitch had some surgery done on his leg the Sunday before Christmas and got to come home on Christmas Day. It will be a while yet before that cast comes off.

Sandy said their New Year's was almost as lively as Christmas. She and Mitch played Life; J.B. had to work; Neva Joe baby-sat; and Robert was the only one who went to a party.

THOMAS AND WANDA Coffelt celebrated in the New Year at a party in Amarillo.

JON AND DIANA Hoffman attended a party at the home of Jerry and Mona Wilde in Amarillo. There were six couples present.

ROYCE AND MYSELF celebrated brated the New Year at a party at the home of Joan and Lon Barnett in Amarillo.

We played 20 games, four sets to a game, of 42. There was a prize given for the highest scorer and the lowest scorer.

Also had a prize for the last 84 bid made each game and this prize changed hands off and on all night until the last hand. We had a very enjoyable evening.

PEARL, DALE AND Dusty West made a trip to Abilene this week end to see Dale's aunt, Selma Paine. She has had two severe heart attacks recently and was able to visit about three hours.

They also visited with Dale's cousin, the L.D. Joneses. On their way home they stopped in Lubbock at the Clifton Helms. They got back home about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, tired out but very glad they had made the trip.

MUST SIGN OFF for this week, but will be back next time. Keep on reading.

Thought for this week: "Get a little more out of life by putting a little more into it. You'll be surprised at the results."

Marionette Show Entertaining

Review By JIM HOLSTON

"Puppets are not just for children" was the final statement of the talented Daniel Lloids of Lloids' International Music and Marionettes for Adults which was sponsored here by the Community Concert Association.

The performance of the very small, but very alive, wooden people was held January 6 in the Fine Arts Theatre on the WTSU campus.

The repertoire for the evening performance included Igor Stravinsky's "The Firebird," "Etudes for Two Hands," Jacques Offenbach's "Gaiette Parisienne" and "Holiday" performed to Mendelssohn's Fourth (Italian) Symphony.

Music, Marionettes, two hands and one man actually describes the physical aspect of the performance. The artistry of this one man helped bring to life 125 string pulled puppets. The performance opened with the tuning of the recorded orchestra, the national anthem and an introduction by Mr. Lloids, the solo marionettiste. The small stage was equipped with lights, curtains, back drops, pipes that spewed smoke and real water fountains.

At all times the artist was visible to the audience so that the wooden people seemed to develop the aesthetic feeling that the artist exhibited.

"The Firebird" stirred the imagination of the audience and was truly a fine experience. "Etudes for Two Hands" was a set of cameos views of comic but true to life reality. Pianists, singers (a soprano introduced as being with the Metropolitan "Museum"), Russian Dancers, and other marvelous sketches of the magic of puppetry. "Gaiette Parisienne" featured a witty view of the style conscious Paris at the turn of the century.

Can-can dancers, couples dancing, bicycle riders, an organ grinder with a dancing monkey all unaffected a bored, cigar smoking, gentleman seated at a table.

"Holiday" was a musical cartoon suggested by the pages of Holiday Magazine. Visiting favorite tourist spots, we saw Gallelaio with his experiments from the Leaning Tower of Piza, more and more pigeons, Vienna with its boatmen, Lions eating Christians and Caesar fiddling while Rome burned.

This was truly an exciting evening for adults and for children, too.

School Fire Extinguishers Still Not Replaced Here

A thousand Canyon school children Monday returned to classes at Rex Reeves Elementary School where there has still been no correction of a faulty fire extinguisher problem discovered before Christmas in a small stockroom fire.

Canyon schools business manager Ronnie Woods said no replacements have been purchased yet for four faulty extinguishers used and then discarded by Rex Reeves janitors Dec. 19 as they furiously attempted to thwart a blaze in a store room. Nor have replacements been purchased for the several fire extinguishers the janitors did use.

Rex Reeves Principal Bob Parks said the janitors have taken all fire extinguishers in the school from the walls and have them in a store room. He said

Holidays Spent Travelling, And Seeing Historic Sites

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hines have returned home after spending the holidays in the Kansas area where they visited their daughter, Sondra, who is finishing her Ph.D. at Kansas State University.

In reporting their travels, the Hines said they made a side-trip to Lindsborg, Kan. (a Swedish settlement) where they had a pre-holiday smorgasbord including numerous appetizers and pickled herring served buffet style. The pre-holiday smorgasbord is a "custom brought over from Sweden."

While at daughter, Sondra's, the Hines went to Columbia, Mo., where Sondra had various lab work done and returned by way of Independence, Mo., where they saw the Harry S. Truman Library which is filled with museum exhibits centering on the nature and history of his presidency. "An outstanding feature of the library was a large mural painting of Independence as the opening of the west by American artist, Thomas Hart Benton," noted the Hines.

A Persian rug presented to the late President Truman by the Shah of Iran and a massive dining table presented by the Philippine government, along with an extensive collection of the late President's Bibles, were noted in the gallery.

"A reproduction of the President's office in the west wing of the White House was of special interest. In the Presidential room are exhibits designed to carry out President Truman's desire to make the Presidential office more clearly understood."

"This room also includes many famous documents and mementoes of the Democratic National Convention of 1948, the 'Whistle Stop Campaign,' and the Truman inauguration of 1949," related the Hines.

"There are also valuable gifts from foreign statesmen and people including a 2500 year old vase presented by the Greek nation in gratitude for American aid. Also included in this room are historic Presidential documents including Wilson's 1917 Proclamation of War against Germany and Franklin D. Roosevelt's Pearl Harbor Message along with Truman's VE Day Proclamation and Kennedy's executive order establishing the Peace Corps. The table on which the United Nations Charter was signed at San Francisco in 1945 centers the room."

"In the garden room are Truman's favorite portrait of his mother and other color portraits. The room also holds the original plaster model depicting the flag raising on Iwo Jima and a torch presented to President Truman by Israel in gratitude for his prompt recognition of the New

State of Israel. "In the east gallery is a model of the Mitty, Mo. battleship, Missouri, featuring the original Japanese instrument of surrender signed aboard the Missouri in 1945, along with numerous other items of interest," reported the Hines.

The Hines visited in Kansas City with Mrs. Hines' sister, Charlene Meier, and mother, Mrs. Bea Meier. Her mother returned to Canyon for a visit.

While in Manhattan, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Hines helped their daughter, Sondra, pack for a trip to Germany where her husband, Dr. Albert King, is teaching for three months. The Kings will then go on to England for three months as he is teaching in the Air Force program. They will return to the states in August and will move to DeKalb, Ill., where Dr. King will teach at the university.

Bill Jones Family Attends Final Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones of Canyon received word of the sudden death of his father, Garnet W. Jones, 73, this past week end.

Garnet Jones died Sunday, Jan. 5, and funeral rites were held on Monday at Crosbyton where he had resided since the late 1930's.

Survivors include the widow, Vera Jones of Crosbyton, and the one son, Bill Jones of Canyon (who is manager for Buffalo Bookstore), and three grandchildren.

Floral Decor Topic For Gardeners

"Enhancing Home Decor with Flowers, Pot Plants and other Arrangements" will be the theme for a program to be given by Morris Westberry, manager of HR's Flowers and Gifts of Canyon, when he presents the program this evening, Jan. 9, for Canyon Garden Club members.

The program will be presented at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, 2424 14th Avenue, Canyon and will follow the business meeting which begins at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hall and son, Shawn, have returned from Midland where they visited her sister, Mrs. Marlin Simpson, and family. The Hall's son, David, was home for the holiday period with his family here.
